

D2 – The awareness of the DDA in the general population

Baseline and Trends: Baseline year – 2005. Figures from 2009 show that 72 per cent of the general population were aware of the Disability Discrimination Act (DDA). These figures have not significantly changed since the baseline.

The awareness of the DDA in the general population

Definition: The ONS Opinions Survey selects a random sample of individuals aged 16 years and over living in private households in Great Britain. This indicator looks at awareness of the Disability Discrimination Act in the general survey population without being prompted of its aims/coverage. Data aggregates the 8 waves of the survey run in each year.

Data Source: ONS Opinions Survey